wrong, is it likely that he will submit himself to be killed ! ... With regard to LAI MING CHUN, he is indeed a bare-faced fellow, and one who has n regard for anything. On the 27th day of the 10th Moon last year (24th November, 1875), he elandered Messrs. TSANGSHUN YEE, and WOO LIN TAK by falsely socusing them of being engaged in the nefarious trade of selling people for the purposes of emigration, and that in their transactions they were in fact kidnappers. And finally, he recorded the same in the Town Wan Yat Po (the Universal Circulating Herald), so that Messra, Tsang and Woo Road. had thought of suing him before the local anthorities, so that he might be punished for libelling people's character. Fortunately The German steamship Altona reports left for him, however, LAT MING CHUN learnt volunturily consented to pay the penalty of bearing the legal expenses in the sum of $600. and foreign newspapers, three of each, for the period of one month, an article, in order to The British back Portic reports left Bangkok redeem himself from what he has been guilty been advised by intimate friends, who urged

Now LAI MING OHUN, as a man, is not one who is numbered among the gentry, nor is his name pronounced by the line of the illustrious. Yet he fulsely allates in slanderous language and spreads diffusedly by word of mouth stories to the defilement and pollution of (the good name of) Messrs, Tsanc and Woo. It was right therefore that Measura. TRANG and Woo sought to see bim in the Courts of Justice, and he was on the eve of being punished by the utmost penalty of the law. For-tunutely, however, Messrs. Tsand and Woo's magnanimity is expansive as the sea and as capanions as the ocean, and they deal with people liberally; with that end in view, they therefore prefer, instead of punishing bim, as he rightly descrees, to forgive him of the enormous crime of which he has been guilty. Having ceased litigation now, they have no resentment against any one, and by so doing, they oberish the friendly tie that exists amongst the Chinese clans. They have also shown that in doing this they are inflicting a lenient punishment for the sake of a great warning. They are indeed fully sustaining the benevolent principles. of the great men, and for this act of theirs, may the happiness (for good fortune) of Messrs. Isang and Woo never grow leer.

Progress in China is painfully slow, and any great change seems possible only as the fruit of a tragedy or a war, both of which are much to be deplored. THE EMMA MINE.
The New York Times published the following Communication, dated Baltimore, December 30:
The American will publish to morrow a letter addressed from London to it, by Reverdy Johnson, on the subject of General Schenck and	ļ the Emma Mine scandal, Mr. Johnson says that	1 since his arrival in England he has endeavoured	ł to become accurately acquainted with all the	1 circumstances of the transaction, and the result is his perfect conviction that there is no ground whatever for impensing in the slightest degree	l
General Schenck's personal integrity. Mr.	Ì
Johnson reviews the case at length, first	ı correcting the impression that any legal pro-	l coedings were instituted in England for investi-	İ gation into the Minister's conduct. When proceedings were begun against the Emma	i
Mine directors be had ceased to be one of them;	ı but he voluntarily appeared before the com-	ı mission appointed to take testimony, and offered	ļ himself as a witness. Mr. Johnson rehearses	İ
Mr. Schenck's agreement with Park, in October,	ĺ 1871, to take 500 shares at 201, per share, Park lending him the money, and gnaranteeing an lending him the money, and gnaranteeing an annual dividend of 18 per cent, and Mr.	L Schook pledging the shares and his American property as collateral security. This dividend was paid for 13 months to Mr.
Schenck and the other stockholders. He	1 consented to become a director to protect his own interests and those of other American stockholdere. What induced him to believe that there was no such impropriety was, among	, other things, the fact that a company had been	, formed under a Portuguese charter for the construction of steam tramways at Lisbon, of which the Minister of Portugal, one of the	• oldest and most esteemed at this Court, Field Marshal the Duke of Saldaulia, was the projec-	: tor and chairman of the board of directors, and its stock was on this market. Noither at that	٠, time nor since has this step on the part of the duke heen censured. Mr. Johnson further says that Mr. Schenok at no time received anything but dividends, and when these ceased he received nothing, although Senator Stewart had assured	_ him that his associates, as directors, were of the highest standing. He regretted his position,	• and resigned in December, 1871. Mr. Johnson writes: In conclusion, during no part of this period—that is to say, from the time when he became stockholder and director to the time of his resignation—had any doubt been cust on the	, value of the mine. On the contrary, the stock bad enhanced in value from 201, to over 301.
per share, and many sales were made at the	, latter price. In a word, then, what General Sobenck did was a mere business transaction,	:
entered into by him with a full belief, which he	_ was authorised to entertain, that it would	• ensure to his profit, and this must have been the case with all the original stockholders. So far] from its having turned out profitably, it has	, been and is quite otherwise; but the general bears the loss with the firmness which belongs to his character, and without the least concious.
ness that he has done anything legally wrong.
Aithough us be himself stated in his testimony, he subsequently thought that in becoming a director he had made a mistake, it must be a	' catisfaction to him that his government never censured him, but, on the contrary, has acquitted him of any wrong intention and retained perfect confidence in his ability as a Minister and his integrity as a man. It must also be entisfactory to him to know that he stands well	• with the government of her Majesty, and is enabled to serve the United States as well as if	:

FROM WINTER TO SPRING. A correspondent of Galignani's Messenger. writing from Cairo on December 31st, says :--" From winter to spring in seven days seems a startling transition even in these fast days. Yet it is an easy feet now for visitors to Egypt. A week ago and I was shivering at Paris over my fire, and consuming innumerable faggots in Dozens. the vain attempt to keep comfortable; to-day I sit by an open window looking out into a garden whose trees and shrubbery are as green as in midsummer, listening to the cooing of the pigeons, and watching the gambols of a pair of pelicans disporting in a little lake, and the | BLANCHE CHAMPAGNE :strange antics of a small green-headed monkey that caricatures childish humanity. At one bound I have leaped from winter into spring and already begin to consider sunshine and soft breezes at the Nile the exception in these Obristmas times. Everything surrounding us here is as exceptional as the climate. You ask for change of a napoleon; they give it to you in nine different currencies, Russian, Spanish French, Italian, Turkish, Eng. lish, Anglo-Indian, &c., in coins as varied as the nationalies they represent. In the hotels and | . PORTER. in the streets you hear every known, and to you many unknown languages spoken—the site of the Tower of Babel evidently having been in Egypt. While our pious compatriots are wending their way on Sunday to the British chapel, on flaming red posters on the walls you see announced, for the entertainment of the general public on this boly day, in Italian and Arabic, a representation that is to be given by a company Mimo, ginnastico-danzante, in Co which Chinese gymnasts assist, directed by the celebrated Bartoletti, decorated with nine medals of honour in the chief cities of Europe This curious blending of the Christian and the Pagan which has ever characterized Egypt is thrust upon you everywhere; and if there be a great hotel of nations, it is here to-day, where in the course of an hour's walk you can meet the representatives of every race, and bear the language of every nation under the sun, save those of the Polar regions, and witness the simultaneous erection of Mahommedan mosque and the Christian church almost side by side. In fact, near the great hotels there are two Christian chapels now in progress of erection, and near the citadel a very not toleration and Christian charity, it yet tourists this year for the Nile trip is up to the usual average, although, as this is the season for their being up the Nile, the botels are not well filled, but that in consequence of the quarantine between Egypt and Syria through dread of cholers, said to exist without foundation at the latter place, the more pious Western pilgrims, whose point was the Holy Land, have not come on in their usual force. When this, obstacle is removed, as it shortly will be, that dammed up flood may pour in, as it is early yet for Syria. For the lucky few to whom time and money are no objects, the old-fashioned dahabish with a pleasant party on board is the perfection of Nile, in fact of Eastern travel, an enisode in a busy life which no one who has ever enjoyed it can ever fail to recal as the very poetry of Eastern move. ment, sparing you many of the unavoidable hardships of the other form of Eastern travel, life under tents. But the practical character of the prices. our age is carried now even into travel when undertaken for pleasure, and its poetry is rapidly disappearing, even here where it lingered longest. VINO SANTO. Once I read a strange, sweet story, Of a sacred snawy wine, Made by peasants on Lake Garda, Browed beneath the cross's sign; Vine Santo called forerer, Sealed with seal of things divine-Vine Sante, Hely Wine !

On the first days of October, Only in a shining sun-Only in the dew of morning, Clusters lifted one by one; Thus begins the solemn vintage, Vintage with the cross for sign-Vino Sauto, Holy Wine.

Pales the autumn, falls the winter, Lie the grapes untouched and still; No man hastes and no man hinders While their subtle juices fill, Till the sacred day of Christmas, Day of days, of joy divine, Then is brewed the Holy Wine.

Past the winter, past the spring time. Into summer far and late: For the joy of Vino Sinto They who long must long and wait Only glowing heat can riven-Glowing heat and cross's sign. Vino Santo, Holy Wine!

Dear, to-day, the strange, sweet story, Sudden seemeth thine and mine: Thing and mine and all true lovers. Scaled by seal and signed by sign; Silence, patience, from Love's Vintage Drink at last, in joy divine. Vinc Santo, Holy Wine! -Scribner for January.
